The University of Tennessee at Martin Master of Business Administration

Online MBA for Banking and Financial Services Professionals

Tentative Calendar for the 2013/2014 Cohort

2012

June 15 – November 3  PRIORITY APPLICATIONS: Initial applications, fees, and reference letters accepted during this time for priority consideration. All other application materials should be received by a final deadline of November 10 for priority consideration. [Note: Self-paced foundation course(s) will be available for students who have not previously satisfied the basic undergraduate accounting and/or statistics prerequisites. Any needed prerequisite course(s) must be completed before or during the first two semesters of the regular MBA sequence.]

Nov 4 –Dec 15  APPLICATION PERIOD: Initial applications, fees, and reference letters will continue to be accepted during this time. All application materials must be received by Graduate Studies Office by December 13 for a guaranteed decision on admission. Admissions decisions completed during this time.

December 15  INTRODUCTION TO PROGRAM: Saturday. This non-mandatory on-campus session will provide a detailed introduction to the tools and methods of the online format, along with other aspects of the program. This is an opportunity to meet faculty and fellow students in the cohort and may be the only opportunity to meet them face-to-face prior to graduation.
